IN HONOR OF THE NATION'S DEAD. Arrang ments for Memorial Day Exer-

Memorial Day is almost here again and, as in former years, Chamberlin Post, G. A. R., has arranged for a fitting observance of the day that is dedicated to the memory of our nation's defenders who have answered the last roll call. St. Johnsbury has every reason to be proud of her soldiers and it is right that our people generally join with the heroes who remain with us in paying tributes love and respect to the memory of lose who have gone before.

The exercises of the week will begin Sunday evening with the customary memorial service in Music Hall at 7 o'clock. Rev. E. M. Chapman, pastor of the North church, will deliver the memorial sermon and music will be furnished by the choir of the North church and the St. Johnsbury Band. All old soldiers are cordially invited to meet with Chamberlin Post at G. A. R. Hall at 6 30 and to march to Music Hall with that organization.

The arrangement of exercises for Thursday, May 30, is nearly completed and the exact make up of the parade will be published next week. Owing to the fact that the orator of the day must leave on the afternoon express north for a California trip, the time of the parade is set for 12 m. sharp. The parade will be under the direction of Lieut.-Col. C. M. Bonett, as chief marshal, and will move up Main street to the Union school grounds where short exercises will be given by the school children. From there the parade will move to the soldiers' monument in Court House Square where memorial exercises will be held. The line of march will be continued to Music Hall where the parade will be dismissed. At Music Hall the exercises will be presided over by Fred G. Bundy, president of the day, and the oration will be by Hon. Charles A. Prouty of Washington, Vermont's well known member of the Interstate commerce commission. Mr. Prouty is well known in St. Johnsbury. He was during the 70's a student at the academy and delivered the anniversary address at the semi centennial of that institution in

All old soldiers are cordially invited by Chamberlin Post to join with them in the parade. At 11 a. m. the ladies of the Relief Corps will serve a dinner at G. A. R. hall to all comrades who wear the bronze button, and their wives.

The memorial decoration of graves of "The Roll of Honor" in the several cemeteries under the care of Chamberlin Post will be under the direction of the following detail of comrades for that purpose, and will take place on the forenoon of Memorial Day at the cemeteries named. Those desiring to contribute flowers for that purpose will confer with comrades designated and present them at G. A. R. hall at 8 o'clock a. m., sharp. It is hoped that a generous and hearty compliance with this service may be had as by so doing we hold in honorable remembrance those who gave the "last sacrifice" that our country might be preserved: St. Johnsbury cemetery, Com-rades G. R. Crosby, Charles H. Woodbury, W. H. Ward; St. Johnsbury Center, Comrades L. C. Farnham, Charles H. West, E. E. Simpson; St. Johnsbury East, Comrades G. B. Bullard, E. C. Potter; Paddock Village, Comrades John McDonald, D. Frechette; Goss Hollow, Comrades M. Robinson, D. V. Burbank; Passumpsic, Comrades H. A. Moore, Edwin Fulford; Waterford, Comrades S. B. Horr, E. E. Hovey.

The camp fire in the evening of Memorial Day promises to be one of unusual Arrangements are so nearly complete that there can be no mistake in saying that the following speakers will participate: Judge W. P. Stafford, Rev. Edward T. Fairbanks and Rev. E. M. Chapman; and for musical parts, a chorus choir under the direction of B Frank Harris, a male quartette directed by Harry H. May, a double quartette of boys under the instructor of music in the graded schools, Miss Nichols; the Mar-cians, Mrs. Emma Shufelt Moore and Miss Anna Somerville, soloists; the St. Johnsbury Band; Miss Helen Hall, reader; and Capt. E. L. Hovey. The public will receive a very enjoyable entertainment and more fully appreciate the high privilege of citizenship in one of the best and most enlightened nations of the next year. Kendall Banning has been elected editor in-chief of next year's Dartmouth Magazine. W. C. Hill, '02, C. T. Halliman and Rob Davis, '03, will take the place of those who graduate in June.

Last Wednesday night was held the annual Dartmouth-Williams debate. Dartmouth had the affirmative and Williams the negative of the question: Resolved, that the second clause of section two of the fourteenth amendment should be stricken from the constitution. The last man on Williams' side, Mr. Haynes, won the debate for his party by a profound and logical argument.

In an exciting game May 11 Dartmouth deleated Amherst, at Amherst, 2 11.00 a.m. to 20. It was a pitchers' battle between Varney of Dartmouth and Dunleavy of Amberst in which Varney excelled. May 13, the University of Syracuse was beaten at Hanover 7 to 4. The game was uninteresting. On the 15th Tufts was defeated here 10 to 5. Tuits played as good a game in the field as Dartmouth but were not as fortunate in their pitcher. Friday, Amherst beat Dartmouth here 3 to 1. Amberst didn't make an error and their pitcher allowed no hits. Dunleavy is the only pitcher that has yet held Dartmouth from batting. The game Saturday with Amherst was not played because of rain. The second game with Brown will be played the 21st at Providence. An interesting

The French play, 'Le Medecin Malgre Lui," rendered Saturday night at Bissell Hall for the bencfit of the Mary Hitchcock hospital was a decided success. The wonder is that col-lege boys can do as well and taithfully when it is in a play that calls for clever acting. At the close of the second act the manager announced that $1100 had been realized from the play, not as the direct proceeds but much of it received

Death of Rev. E. B Webb.

Rev. E. B. Webb, D. D., one of the best known clergymen in the Congregational denomination, died at his home at Wellesley, Mass., Monday, aged 81 years. Dr. Webb was born in Newcastle, Maine. His first pastorate was Augusta, Me., where he succeeded the Rev. Dr. Benjamin Tappan. He was one of the leaders among the Maine ministers, and after ten years of very successful service he accepted a call to the Shawmut Congregational church in Boston, where he continued for twenty-five years with great prosperity and use ulness. He had since been retired, but supplied vacant places.

Awnings In Big Lots.

"To supply some of the big modern buildings with awnings," said an awning maker, "costs as much as it would to build a moderate sized house.

"Not all of the great buildings require awnings. Some of the very largest have their principal exposure in such a direction that they are not needed, the sun not shining on these windows during the hours the offices are occupied. And then, of course, there are great buildings that do not require awnings on some sides, but need them on others or in courts, and so on. "Here, for instance, is a building with about 1,000 windows, of which 600 or thereabout are supplied with awnings. "Another building I have in mind has about 1,600 windows. I don't know how many awnings they have there, but if it is supplied in the same proportion as the other that would give it about 1,000 awnings. I dare say that, in fact, you would find in the city sin-Walden; Nathan Kinne, Frances H. gle buildings with more than a thou-Shepherd, Waterford; D. B. Leslie, sand awnings.

"You see, just the awnings for some of these great modern buildings amount to quite an item."-New York Sun.

Too Classic For Them. A resident in a small suburban town had a visit from a German friend who knew little English, but played the violin well. One of this resident's neighbors gave a "musicale," and of course he and his visitor were invited. The German took his violin, and when his turn came he played one of his best pieces from one of the great masters.

When he had finished, there was an awkward silence and no applause. The people were still looking expectantly at the German, who looked disappointed and flustered. The silence grew pain-

Are you paying twice too much

for your Fire Insurance?

For the past six weeks, I have advertised the Actual cost of fire insurance in different companies, showing the cost in the Vermont Mutuals to be more than double the cost in the old Providence Mutual, for such risks as they will accept, and 40 per cent less, than the cost in any of the Stock Companies. Don't you think this is worth saving?

Remember my motto: Don't take my word for it, but investigate.
